FEATURING

DAVID BROWNING Through his portrayal of "The Mayberry Deputy," multi-faceted entertainer David Browning brings a smile to the face of "Andy Griffith Show" fans wherever he goes. Hailing from Bristol, Virginia, Browning often appears at Mayberry events throughout the country as good ol' Barn. A skilled impersonator and improvisational master, Browning calls upon his talents and audience participation to bring his characters to life. People of all ages have enjoyed Browning's good natured, family-friendly performances.

RONNIE SCHELL Besides appearing on "The Andy Griffith Show," "Gomer Pyle U.S.M.C" and as a regular on "The Jim Nabor's Hour," Ronnie's television appearances include co-starring for three years as Marlo Thomas' agent "Harvey Peck" on ABC's "That Girl" and guest starring on top rated TV series like "General Hospital," "Yes, Dear," and "Coach." His films include: "Jetsons, The Movie" and "Rover Dangerfield,""Fatal Instinct" and "Revenge of the Red Baron," with Mickey Rooney and Laraine Newman. Ronnie also co-starred in a comedy video with Tim Conway called, "Dorf Goes Fishing."

BARBARA STUART Barbara Stuart's first big break was a national tour of "Lunatics and Lovers" with Zero Mostel. This led to her first television series, playing "Bessie" in "The Great Gildersleeve" based on the classic radio show, "Fibber McGee and Molly". She went on to do several other television series. She's particularly fond of three of them. "The Queen and I" with Larry Storch was the forerunner of "The Loveboat." Our Family Honor" with Eli Wallach was an 80's mafia series in which she played the wife of the Godfather. However, her favorite television experience was on "Gomer Pyle" playing "Miss Bunny," Sgt. Carter's girlfriend.

MAGGIE PETERSON Maggie Peterson was discovered by The Andy Giffith Show director Bob Sweeney and producer Aaron Ruben while performing on tour in Las Vegas, Tahoe and Reno. "The rest is history." Maggie became the beloved Charlene Darling. She has appeared on other TV shows such as "Green Acres," "Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C.," "The Odd Couple," "The Bill Dana Show" and "Love American Style." She has appeared in movies with Andy Griffith and Don Knotts.

ELIZABETH MACRAE Elizabeth MacRae has appeared in motion pictures and on many television shows in the course of her acting career. Her movie roles include appearances in Francis Ford Coppola's "The Conversation," "For Love or Money," "The Incredible Mr. Limpet," "Everything's Ducky," and others. On television, for three seasons, she played Gomer Pyle's girlfriend, Lou Ann Poovie, on "Gomer Pyle, USMC," and, for another three seasons, she played Festus's girlfriend April on "Gunsmoke." She had guest starring or co-starring roles on more than 50 television series, including "Barnaby Jones," "Kojak," "Mannix," "The Fugitive," "Dr. Kildare," "Andy Griffith," "I Dream of Jeannie" and numerous other shows.
